

Our mission is to empower all communities against addiction

DAAP works with individuals and communities to provide appropriate information and interventions to overcome drug, alcohol and Khat addiction.

Our Principles

- Healthy Individuals create healthy communities

Addiction and its consequences affect every section of our community either directly or indirectly.

DAAP Challenges static community perceptions about addiction and established practices.

- Education promotes informed choice

Individuals can make informed choices to promote their physical, emotional and spiritual well-being by knowing the consequences of addiction.

DAAP educates individuals, organisations and communities on drug, alcohol and Khat addiction and how this impacts on the individual, the family, the community and society at large.

- Responsiveness and inclusiveness ensures diverse solutions and outcomes

Individuals and communities are diverse. Solutions and interventions therefore need to be wide ranging and appropriate.

DAAP promotes appropriate interventions and equality of choice so that individuals and communities can better address addiction and related issues.

We provide support for users and carers in a number of local languages, organise community cohesion and crime diversion events, train volunteers and undertake research and resource development.
